Jayne Bond and Phil Whiffing Double Bill

26th January 2026

A treat tonight, with images from two club members who have both been pursuing projects as a focus for some of their photography.

Jayne's section will be about her journey to successfully achieving the Guild of Professional Photographers 'Master Craftsman' award. This is not a qualification that is perhaps as well-known as those awarded by the RPS or PAGB, so it should be an interesting talk on something that will be new to many. The talk will cover the selection of her 20 images and their printing and mounting and the arrangement of the final panel. Her images will be able to viewed over the break period.

Phil's talk is called 'Sailing the Atlantic: a third mid-life crisis'. It is the story of Phil's biggest adventure to date on which he was accompanied by his Canon 400D and kit lens. Hopefully we will also get details of his first and second mid-life crises as well...
